I always love the way you do your makeup, super cute!

Holy shit what is this fuckery? Makeup has quite observably damaged your skin.

I want to have very hooded eyes!! I think they are so beautiful! *sigh* I guess you always want what you don't have.

First of all, before you try to throw shade, can we talk about how FUGLY you really are without makeup? I believe they have procedures now for dark undereyes sweetheart. And PS... the laceon your lacefront is showing!

Why don't black women just accept their broad nose? Why do you want to have a slim nose so bad?

They wonder why they need to wash their face so they don't look like a cold, left over pizza when their face is clean-ish, bish, you're suffocating your face.

You look like a clown.

Hyperpigmentation is normal, especially in black women, and yet they are still shamed for it. It saddens me that so many black women feel the need to lighten their skin tone with makeup.

5 days ago

I am actually disgusted by people painting on so much makeup that their skin can't breathe.

I love your eye shaping like this, you look great! This is my favorite look you've ever done!! Trying this out ASAP

I get wanting to elongate the eye for a sexy look, but all I think of when I see this look is bad plastic surgery.

Back in the day arched brows and round eyes were in, now it's the opposite. Beauty standards are crazy. Embrace what you got.

This is not to downplay Brianna's skills, which I think are top notch, just my thoughts on the trend in general.
